ENVIRO MANUFACTURING & ENVIRO DESIGN

Do you feel that you and your company could take advantage of opportunities to increase productivity, profitability and sustainability, through developing the knowledge and skills of your employees?

If the answer to this fundamental question is yes then read on...

Pro Enviro and ECO3 are running a proactive business improvement project that seeks to minimise the waste stream from manufacturing processes through supporting the implementation of environmental lean manufacturing techniques.

Our region has a strong manufacturing base with a good background in the implementation of manufacturing improvement techniques such as lean manufacturing but there is a limited appreciation of the business benefits associated with effective environmental systems and processes. This European funded programme offers the opportunity for you to improve your business efficiency while enhancing your company's image with your clients and suppliers.

Working with you, we will improve the capability of your companies' workforce, enabling them to introduce lean manufacturing in an environmentally sustainable way. With ever increasing environmental demands being placed on companies in the region, including;

- end of vehicle life directive,
- hazardous waste regulations,
- IPPC,
- increasing landfill taxes,

it is no longer enough to concentrate on manufacturing improvements without giving due consideration to the longer term environmental impacts of the process being used.

Pro Enviro has extensive experience in both environmental management and the implementation of lean manufacturing processes within the manufacturing sector.

Let our team of manufacturing experts help your organisation develop along a more profitable and sustainable future.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS?

The programme can:

- Develop qualifications for suppliers and world class customers
- Enhance company image
- Enable short and long term cost reduction
- Reduce energy usage and pollution
- Promote research and design activities

Eligible SMEs participate in the programme through a network delivered for EnviroManufacturing by Pro Enviro Ltd.
